SALT GROUP SAFESIGN LICENSING ANNOUNCEMENT

Many of our customers have enjoyed the superb reliability and performance of the Thales SafeSign product over the years and have benefited also from the integration of SafeSign with Salt's own Echidna Authentication Platform and mSign mobile token.

Today, we are thrilled to announce that Salt Group has reached an agreement with Thales which provides Salt with a worldwide, exclusive and perpetual licence to sell and support SafeSign and to further develop the product to accommodate contemporary and advanced authentication models.

As part of this licensing arrangement, Thales will cease direct sales and support of SafeSign globally, as disclosed in their announcement of 31 October 2018 (click here to view the attachment). Existing customers will of course be able to avail of Thales services during the transition period or alternatively transition to Salt support at an earlier time in order to exploit the new range of functionality and platform support to be available in upcoming releases.

Existing and new SafeSign customers can be assured of Salt's ongoing commitment to the SafeSign product line, which will continue under new branding to set the performance benchmark for high assurance enterprise grade authentication technology in the banking and government sectors.

This is an exciting time for us at Salt as we merge the capabilities of our own product line with SafeSign to provide greater flexibility, improved functionality and contemporary and innovative ways to meet our customers' authentication needs, all within a single product offer.

We will keep you posted through our website and twitter feed @saltgroup on these plans for SafeSign as they are developed.

In the meantime, if you have any questions please call or email our CTO Pedram Ghovonlou on +61 3 9614 4416 or pedram@saltgroup.com.au

About SALT

SALT is an Australian IT cybersecurity company that is changing the way organisations think of authentication across mobile and embedded devices, users, and transactions by enabling authentication of any content from any channel, anytime, anywhere.

Salt Group provides a robust security infrastructure to support the authentication of mobile and embedded devices, users, and transactions.

Salt Group enables businesses to take advantage of emergent technologies to continually improve the customer experience and to dynamically align the authentication approach with the risks associated with the customer interaction.
